$1.00 A YEAR.

KARL BULL, Editor and Proprietor.

FRIDAY, MAY 30, 1902.

Just one year after the Jacksonville fire, live members have been discovered while some digging was being done among the ruins, so the fire has been literally "burning a year."

Lewis Nixon resigned from New York's political ring because, as he said, "I cannot retain my self-respect and still remain the leader of Tammany." He has gained the respect of the country.

President Roosevelt in a recent speech laid stress on the value of intellect and ability, but further said, "It is a good and necessary thing to be intelligent; it is a better thing to be straight and decent and fearless."

Charles M. Schwab will establish a summer country home near the seashore for the poor children of New York city and he intimates that it will be a greater source of pride to him than all his industrial achievements.

The battleship Kearsage has just held the record-breaking target practice of the world. Her 13-inch guns hit the mark seven out of eleven times, firing while steaming at half speed, the target being only forty-five feet long, one mile away.

A Pennsylvania railroad official tested the effect of Sunday work on gangs of men and found a decided falling off in the amount of work done by those men who work seven days as compared to those who had a day of rest. He holds that Sunday rest pays as an economic principle aside from the question of religion.

Stops the Cough
And Works off the Cold.
Laxative Bromo-Quinine Tablets cure a cold in one day. No Cure, No Pay. Price 25 cents.

Intelligence, industry, honesty and thrift produce wealth, and the wealthy man's chief duty is to use his money where it will do the greatest good to the greatest number. The founding of a great industry serves such a purpose as well as the founding a library or a college.

Like a Drowning Man.

"Five years ago a disease the doctors called dyspepsia took such a hold on me that I could scarcely go," writes Geo. S. Marab, well known attorney of Nocona, Tex. "I took quantities of peppermint and other medicines but nothing helped me. As a drowning man grabs at a straw I grabbed at Kodol. I felt an improvement at once and after a few bottles am sound and well." Kodol is the only preparation which exactly reproduces the natural digestive juices and consequently is the only one which digests any good food and cures any form of stomach trouble. O. M. Ridgway, J.

Killed by Imagination.

There have been several well authenticated cases where death has been caused by sheer fright. An English military surgeon named Francis told of one case, that of a drummer in India, across whose legs a harmless lizard crawled while he was half asleep. He was sure that a cobra had bitten him, and it was too much for his nerves, and he died.

To Cure a Cold in One Day.

Take Laxative Bromo-Quinine Tablets. All druggists refund the money if it fails to cure. E. W. Grove's signature is on each box. 25c.

Good for Rheumatism.

Last fall I was taken with a severe attack of muscular rheumatism which caused me great pain and annoyance. After trying several prescriptions and rheumatic cures, I decided to use Chamberlain's Pain Balm, which I had seen advertised in the South Jerseyman. After two applications of this remedy I was much better, and after using one bottle, was completely cured.—Sallie Harris, Salem, N. J. For sale by C. M. Ridgway, Drugist.

Don't Start Wrong.

Don't start the summer with a lingering cough or cold. We all know what a "summer cold" is. It's the hardest kind to cure. Often it "hangs on" through the entire season. Take it in hand right now. A few doses of One Minute Cough Cure will set you right. Sure cure for coughs, colds, croup, grip, bronchitis, all throat and lung troubles. Absolutely safe. Acts on once children like it. "One Minute Cough Cure is the best cough medicine I ever used," says J. H. Bowles, Cleveland, N. H. "I never found anything else that acted so safely and quickly." C. M. Ridgway.

JUDGING COLORS.

It is Not So Simple a Matter as One Would Imagine.

Most persons think they have a fair discriminating power in matching colors, but a little test will usually show that their power in that respect is woefully below the highest standard.

An expert in dyeing fabrics in a modern mill or factory requires first of all unusual powers of judging colors, and the keenness and accuracy of his eyes in this respect are something remarkable.

While most people can easily distinguish between pink, scarlet, cardinal and magenta when seen separately, it is quite a test to point them out accurately when mixed together in the dyehouse. But even this test is small compared with the work of distinguishing the different delicate shades which are used for dyeing. In the dyehouse one must be able to discriminate accurately and quickly, for example, between a dyed color of 1 per cent and 1.1 per cent. Place these two dyes together, and not one in a thousand would see any difference between them unless he had been trained to judge colors. The difference is so delicate that even experts sometimes require the two shades together to make an accurate decision.

The power of judging colors is a matter of training the memory. The measurement of this color memory decides the man's actual worth to any dyeing establishment. It is a pretty serious and expensive matter to have dye experts make errors in matching colors, for thousands of yards of material may be dyed before the mistake is detected.

"One might think that this exacting work of matching and discriminating between colors would be hard on the eyes," explained a factory superintendent, "but just the reverse is the case. The eye grows in strength and keenness, and the powers of color memory become abnormally strong. If an expert had to deal entirely with one color or shade, his eyes would soon become weak, and he would lose all power of discrimination. But multitudes of colors presented to the eyes all the time keep them strong and healthy."

"Of course some of the shades are so much alike that it is almost as bad as gazing at one color, and it would be for the average eye, but the color expert gets a rest and change even in these delicate shades."—New York Times.

Woman's Sacrifice.
A tragedy in one act. Characters—Mrs. Jones, Miss Jones. Time—Today. Mrs. Jones before her mirror in her boudoir. Enter Miss Jones, crying.

Mrs.—My dear child, what is the matter?

Miss—Jack is going to make me a birthday present of a bracelet with nineteen diamonds set in it.

Mrs.—And are you crying because you are to have nineteen diamonds?

Miss—No, mamma, dear. I cry because I have lost five diamonds.

Mrs.—Child, explain yourself.

Miss—Jack called and said he was going to give me the bracelet on my birthday, next week, and wanted to put a diamond in it for each year that I had lived. Then he asked me how many. It was a terrible struggle, mamma, dear, and I had to sacrifice five diamonds.

Mrs.—My thoughtful eldest born, you did well. A year of youth to a woman's credit is a gem of more value than a diamond.

CURTAIN.
—New York Herald.

A Selfish World.

George—No matter how things go, the poor always suffer.

Jack—Yes, the nabobs who own railroads don't think anything of running over a poor man's horse.

"Yes, and the man who can afford to own a horse runs down the poor fellow on a bicycle."

"Just so. And the fellow on the bicycle runs down the poor chap who has to walk."

"That's it. And the man who walks stumbles against the poor cripple who goes on crutches."

"That's the way. And the cripple on crutches spends most of his time jamming his stick down on other people's corners. It's a sadly selfish world."—New York Weekly.

Too Familiar.

An English judge had a wealthy brother who for a long time took a commanding position in the business interests of one of the big manufacturing towns. While the judge was seated on the bench of the court one day in the town where his brother's business was the latter appeared and in his bluff, fraternal way said:

"How are you, John? I have been summoned to act as grand juror."

Said the judge, "When I am on the bench, I am addressed as 'your lordship.'"

"Don't be a silly fool, John," said the business man.

"Fine Mr. Turner $30," said the judge, and he was forthwith fined.

PENRHYN ISLAND.

One of the Pearl Shelled Fairy Rings of the Pacific.

Penrhyn appeared one morning on the northern horizon, a band of dim shadow above the ocean. On these narrow islands you see the dark line of the palm tree fronds at a distance, but not the stems, so that the land seems to hang between sea and sky. Penrhyn is one of those fascinating atolls, the fairy rings of the Pacific, that have been formed by the subsidence of the land, while only the coral reef that once encircled it remains, and the great circular lagoon takes the place of the island that was. The islands are not more than ten feet high.

The famous pearl island was supposed to have been discovered by the ship Lady Penrhyn in 1788. Lieutenant Bignold of the Porpoise, who visited it in 1841, stated that its inhabitants were the wildest and most savage looking beings he had ever seen. The island was subsequently visited by traders and in 1888 was formally annexed to Great Britain.

Penrhyn is one of the most famous pearl islands of the Pacific, and its divers are as famous as its pearls. They will dive to a depth of twenty fathoms, or 120 feet. The pearl shell grows to a very large size in the lagoon, and the picked shell is worth $1,000 a ton in the home market. Formerly pearls were more plentiful. On one occasion Messrs. Godeffroy, the famous German firm, shipped to Europe in one parcel pearls to the value of $20,000, the product of a few months' collection among the islands, and in the early days the beach combers who were daring enough to land on those remote islands and who managed to escape the ovens of the cannibals often realized great sums of money by the sale of parcels of these gems.—Pearson's Magazine.

Surgery in Kentucky, Sahl.

They laid the Kentucky gentleman on the operating table. His revolver was in his strong right hand.

"Boys," he said to the assembled surgeons, "I know this is going to be a serious affair, but let me tell you something." And he tapped on his revolver. "If I have to go, I'll certainly want company. An if you make way with me while I'm under the influence of your darned opiates I've got six sons at home who would be only too delighted to show you what they think of your lack of skill in case it does lack. An they'd be prepared to follow you around from King's bridge to Kingdom Come until they even up things for the loss of their old dad. That's all. Out away."

Perhaps it is unnecessary to add that the operation was completely successful.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Grant's First Dollar.

General Wilson told the story of how General Grant earned his first dollar. He was a little chap living in Mount Pleasant, O., when the circus came to town. Like every other boy that could raise a quarter, he went to the show. One of the attractions was a trick mule, and $1 was offered to any one who could ride the mule around the ring without being thrown. After all the other volunteers had failed Grant tried, with the same result. "I want to try again," he insisted. "All right, sonny," said the circus man, and this time the boy reversed his position and held on by the mule's tail, which so astonished the animal that it failed to rid itself of its burden, and young Grant won the dollar.

How To Gain Flesh

Persons have been known to gain a pound a day by taking an ounce of SCOTT'S EMULSION. It is strange, but it often happens.

Somehow the ounce produces the pound; it seems to start the digestive machinery going properly, so that the patient is able to digest and absorb his ordinary food, which he could not do before, and that is the way the gain is made.

A certain amount of flesh is necessary for health; if you have not got it you can get it by taking

Question Answered.

Yes, August Flower still has the largest sale of any medicine in the civilized world. Your mothers and grandmothers never thought of using anything else for indigestion or biliousness. Doctors were scarce, and they seldom heard of Appendicitis, Nervous Prostration or Heart Failure, etc. They used August Flower to clean out the system and stop fermentation of undigested food, regulate the action of the liver, stimulate the nervous and organic action of the system, and that is all they took when feeling dull and bad with headache and other aches. You only need a few doses of Green's August Flower, in liquid form, to make you satisfied there is nothing serious the matter with you. Get Green's Prize Almanac.

Music by Currie Orchestra, Xenia, O.

Rev. James McQuillen, of Chicago, is to be married Wednesday to Miss Irene Smiley, of Marietta, Ill.

Invitations are out announcing the marriage of Rev. Alvin Orr to Miss Imo Koadamer, of Selma. The marriage will take place at Denver, Col., Thursday, June 5.

The Memorial exercises at the opera house last Sabbath afternoon, were well attended, they being given by Rev. Frownlee, of the Presbyterian Church at Clifton. Music for the occasion was furnished by the M. E. Church choir.

A large crowd assembled in the opera house last Sabbath evening to hear the baccalaureate sermon to the graduating class of the high school by Prof. McChesney, who is always a welcome speaker before a Cedarville audience and his scholarly address was well received.

President Roosevelt in a recent speech laid stress on the value of intellect and ability, but further said, "It is a good and necessary thing to be intelligent; it is a better thing to be straight and decent and fearless."

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. McMillan are rejoicing over the arrival of a girl at their home Wednesday.

Mrs. W. L. Marshall and children, of Xenia, are guests of W. M. Barber and family.

On last Tuesday afternoon thirty little friends were royally entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Joyce, in honor of their daughter Jennie's eighth birthday. A lovely three-course luncheon was served and the guests departed at five, taking their little playmates with them, many returns and leaving many beautiful and valuable presents as tokens of friendship.

Mr. Jesse Townsley, who has had the misfortune of having his horse and buggy stolen a time or two, had the same experience again last Saturday evening in Springfield. The rig had been driven by the farm hand, Henry Spangler, and was hitched on the street, from where it was taken. The driver, immediately upon the discovery, reported the theft to the police, who started a diligent search. Cabmen over the city were notified and it was in this manner the horse was found. The cabman had recognized the horse from the description given by the police and took possession of it, the driver making good his escape. The rig was turned over to Henry Spangler, who brought it home without any damage whatever.

The rural mail carriers seem to be trying to see which one has the fastest horse. Some weeks ago Mr. Spencer's horse started the pace by running off while being hitched at the barn. Now Mr. Stormont comes up on Wednesday with a little better record. While looking John O'Brien's box his horse saw the coast was clear and started on a two-minute gallop up the Federal pike. Mr. Houston, of South Charleston, caught the horse in Gladesville, it having gone about five miles. Mr. Stormont says it is good walking on that road. Now it is up to Oscar to see what his horse can do.

Miss Katharine Weisberger, member at the O. S. & S. O. Home, was the pleasant guest of Mr. and Mrs. O. D. Marchant, yesterday.

Mr. Clarence Young will speak in the R. P. Church at 11 a.m. on the R. P. Church at 11 a.m.

The baccalaureate sermon to the graduating class of the college will be delivered at the R. P. Church, Sabbath at 8 p.m., by Dr. D. D. McKinney.

Attorney M. J. Harley was asked yesterday what progress was being made with the proposed Xenia, Cedarville, Jamestown & Wilmington electric line and he stated that he expected to begin on the line before the summer was over. "The road is as sure to be built as anything is sure in this world," said he. "There is more certainty of the line being built than there was of the Springfield & Xenia ever being constructed at any time before the actual work was begun."—Press-Republic.

"A Leaf of Song" is the title of a little volume of poems by Andrew M. George, of this place. The book is beautifully printed on handmade deckle-edged paper and artistically bound. It contains twelve poems, embracing patriotic, heroic, philosophic, idyllic and fanciful in sentiment, all of merit, but some containing a delicacy of thought and finish that compare favorably with the best of modern poets. "Head Winds," "August" and "Beyond" are particularly good. The book would make a neat souvenir for any one. Published by the author, price ten cents.

Summer suits and the ten dollar Panama straw hat, which are the rage in the cities were quite out of place last Tuesday. The cold north wind made it very disagreeable for traveling men who were without their overcoats.

The general improvement on the M. E. Church is progressing nicely. Cliff Bruce is constructing cement steps at the entrance.

The county commissioners were in town Thursday, having come to this session to see about some bridge repair work also to view the ditch in front of Mr. George Harper's residence in reference to putting in sewer. Mr. Harper agrees to put in a walk whenever this work is completed. With the extension of the cement walks in that side of town it will make quite a nice improvement.

New potatoes, cabbage, beets, tomatoes, peas, etc. at Cooper's.

At the exercises of the college graduating class this year a class oration will be delivered by Rev. Trumbull Lee, a noted Presbyterian minister, of Cincinnati. No doubt many will recall this gentleman, as he was one of the judges on the contest last year and gave a very pleasing address during the evening. Robert Balda's orchestra of the Grand opera house, which has delighted audiences here before, will furnish the music.

We will send the value of $1.10 in booklet, containing twenty-seven pen and ink photo-reduced sketches of Washington life by mail for 10c (cash or stamps). Queen Victoria knighted Sir John Tenniel for similar artistic work in London. (Your editor has a sample of this).
